

Name Levi
Position Hospitality
Employer Club Med Phuket - Thailand

Levi was a model student from the beginning. With a very mature attitude, great presentation and excellent attendance, she shone as a High Flyer and as the Class Rep. She was always willing to put in hard work and was not afraid to challenge herself or others in the class, who all had great respect for her.

As an ambitious and outgoing student, Levi jumped at the chance to apply for a position with Club Med. Her application included emails, visa forms and a skype conference, and she was offered a job at Club Med, Thailand.

Levi was a little nervous about leaving home and friends, but has really excelled in her new role and life in a foreign country. Club Med positions require a very high level of customer service, great interpersonal skills and plenty of versatility. Employees at Club Med are given jobs ranging from Bar work (which was Levi’s starting point), Restaurant work, Front of House and other Customer Service positions with the many different activities that they offer.

Levi is always very positive and she has obviously fitted into the Club Med environment very easily. Time off has given her so many opportunities to explore and she has grown to become an independent person very quickly. There was a Club Med rep that visited our Auckland campus who spoke very highly of Levi, and has requested more students like her. He also mentioned that she was so good at her role that she had been asked to join the team in their new Club Med in China which opens next year.

We are all very proud of Levi and look forward to hearing more about her journey with Club Med.

Well Done!

Levi!
